DEDICATION

We, the Class of '54, are honored to dedicate our yearbook to Mrs. Maude B. Bowen. Through the years she has nurtured our minds with the best of our literary heritage, and, as a classroom teacher, she has met us with devotion and inspiration for which we are humbly grateful.

We know that her wise counsel will play an immeasurable part in all that we shall do in the future.

The Class of '54 proudly hails a genuine teacher and sincerely wishes for her the very best in everything.

Graduates:

To you who left us early
In the bloom of Senior year,
There goes a word of thoughtfulness
From all of us still here:

To Bobby Browning, who has left the band
And Pattie with the sparkler on her hand;
There's Anwer whom the 'leven miss so much
And J. B. with the dames he hopes to clutch
And Mary and Sarah who want to skip the town
While Harrington is content to stay around.

We dedicate this page to you and hope that not in vain
Our efforts fall, and someday, somewhere, we shall meet again!

The History Of The Class Of '54

As the four seasons of the year, spring, summer, fall, and winter pass, so did our four years in Senior High, and almost as swiftly.

It was back in the spring that we came into Greenville High School just a little bit lost in the crowded halls and the whirl of happenings, with just one thought in our minds—to get successfully through the season. For officers we elected Sam Winchester, President; David Gilbert, Vice-President; "Boots" Teel, Treasurer; and Ann Ruffin, Secretary. Although we were unfamiliar with the ways of the big school, we were willing to learn and took an active part in the clubs of GHS. During spring training that year, several Freshmen dotted the baseball diamond. We also invited our fellow schoolmates to Paris during our "Freshman Follies"; the first trip of its kind, as no money was spent and we came back with a $36 souvenir. We were all quite proud of Billy Bost when he was presented the National Honor Society award at our Junior High Graduation.

No longer the youngest and now quite proud of being Sophomores, we came again into the familiar and well-loved halls of GHS. Oh! we thought, we shall have to show those poor little "green ones" just how important this summer is. So for an impressive beginning, we chose some class officers capable of leading us: Billy Bost, President; Mary Sideris, Vice-President; Ann Ruffin, Secretary; and Bruce Baker, Treasurer. Early in this, our summer season, twelve fair Sophomore dancing lasses were chosen to add a little beautyt to the elder's Jr.-Sr. We then went down to the seashore and gave a Coronation Ball. And to elevate ourselves further in the Freshmen's opinion we took one and all down to see "Davey Jones' Locker." Before the summer sun went down, the Sophomore golfers and tracksters gained good ground along the winning way. And that was the summer. Our Sophomore year.

During our Indian summer, Sam Winchester was again elected our Prexy, along with Vice-President Bruce Baker, Secretary Ann Wilkerson, and Treasurer Billy Arnold. Magazine subscriptions began to fall with the gold and crimson leaves. All class members helped to rake the leaves, but the biggest piles were made by Billy Bost, $269.28; Lenna Rose, $171.25; and Charley White, $151.20. When all the subscription leaves were piled together, the grand total was $1,169.65, topping all previous classes. On the gridiron that fall several Junior boys were quite prominent. Each cheering Junior in the grandstand was just as proud with his ruby set class ring on his hand. By now the '54 class members really established themselves high in the ranks of GHS extra-curricular activities; Future Homemakers of America, International Correspondence Club, and Student Council. Many honors were brought home by star N.F.L.'ers from their speech tourneys, debates, and congresses. Lou White Winstead and Lenna Rose represented us at Girls' State. Meanwhile Dinah Porter was chosen chief marshal, assisted by Judy Allen, Billy Bost, Curtis Patterson, Ann Ruffin, Mary Sideris, Sarah Taylor, Bruce Tyson, Sylvia Weeks, and Ann Wilkerson. Then came the Eastern Carolina Music Contest. After much rehearsing, the Girls' Glee Club, graced with many a Junior, brought a Superior rating to GHS. Another honor was brought to Greenville by a Junior; Dinah Porter's "parlez-vous francais?" ability placed her second in the National French Contest. The Medalist rating at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association was awarded to our Green Lights staff, many of which were members of the class of '54. Then, our big moment—the culmination of all our plans—the Junior-Senior Banquet and Dance of 1953. The fair autumn breezes swayed the palm trees of tropical Hawaii; leaving us all a little breathless and only dreamily aware that this was a nearly perfect end to a successful season.

The days were getting shorter as Bobby Browning, Pattie Crawford, Bobby Harrington, Anwer Joseph, J. B. Nichols, Mary Sideris, and Sarah Taylor graduated earlier to go into the world and seek their fortunes.

Seniors! At last! For now it is winter, and how thrilling it is—the realization of our goal after three long but enjoyable seasons. Our class officers for the winter were Jimmie Phelps, President; Billy Bost, Vice-President; Sylvia Weeks, Secretary; and Cledith Oakley, Treasurer. Motto, crimson and white colors, and red carnation were chosen at the first Senior Class meeting. The publication of the TAU was the biggest responsibility and was capably snow-balled through by Dinah Porter and Ann Wilkerson, co-editors. College Day, Music Clinics, source themes, and basketball games came and went in flurries, as the snow. At Christmas we gave Willie, La Una, and Curtis yuletide presents. The Coronation Ball and magnificent Junior-Senior left us with stars in our eyes. "Boots" Teel, Jimmy Piver, and R. J. Kennedy again brought honors to GHS by earning participation in the All-State Band Clinic. Then 118 Seniors gathered and as each of us left, we held dear to our hearts the memories of old GHS—of the guidance and the knowledge we had received. Our future years shall be richer and fuller for the experiences we have shared in Greenville High School—our Alma Mater. And now as Father Time ushers the old year out, we remember our motto, "We have not finished, just begun."

Last Will And Testament

State of North Carolina
County of Pitt
City of Greenville
Know ye all whose eyes fall upon these words:

That we, the departing class of '54, presumably being of sound body and definitely without sound mind, do leave Greenville High School! Though we are lost and gone forever, we are going to present to the left-over scholars a few of our treasured belongings—the ones we can do without!

Through the years here we have gathered a gigantic jackpot of possessions. Upon our deserving friends, who may eventually follow after us, we bestow these fabulos fortunes, to wit:

ARTICLE I

There is for Mr. Rose, our superintendent, an autographed copy of the new best-seller, Graduation Is Just Around the Corner.

Mr. Dowd receives a complete record library of soothing music, for the tortured mind.

To the entire faculty goes a year's supply of aspirin, arsenic, and red pencils: Compliments of the Class of '54.

ARTICLE II

To the Junior Class, we have left a glorious summer to enjoy before entering a hard, but wonderful, fall, winter, and spring as Seniors. We also bequeath all left-overs . . . caps and gowns . . . front assembly seats . . . senior privileges . . . homerooms . . . and the sand we shook from our shoes after the Jr.-Sr. houseparties.

A magazine subscription goes to each of the Sophomores to help him through his selling spree. The best two seasons are saved until the last for them.

And to the beloved Freshmen, who have so graciously driven us insane, we leave the task of presenting GHS a wonderful Coronation Ball. Good Luck!

ARTICLE III

Next year the band must march on without the aid of Billy Adams and Gloria Cox. Buck Flye and Terry Tripp are herewith appointed to fill their places.

I, Leona Ainsley, do hereby entrust to Faye Jones one beat-up Royal typewriter.

Rita Alcock, Nan Hardee, Jim Pleasant, and Bobby Williams leaves gladly.

Billy Arnold leaves his well-remembered football uniform to his brother, John Ed, the next "66."

Donning khakies, Bruce Baker leaves for Germany with the National Guard.

Charles Ballance leaves laughing at his glorious escape!

The old battered and beat-up Shorthand Dictionaries that once belonged to Edna Brown and Anna Fleming, go to Mable Lewis and Nannette Sullivan.

Peggy Barnhill leaves???

Billy Bost leaves his pool table to the fortunate.

For the long hard struggle, "A Complete Typing Course in Two Hundred and Twenty Lessons" is left to future typing students Jimmy Perkins and Mamie Ruth Brady, by June Barnhill and Patsy Smith.

Carolyn Barnhill and Shirley Williams leave to meet Ken and John . . . at long last.

Gladys Braxton bequeaths to Ann Reid her gleeful giggles so that the halls shall not be barren of gaiety.

Lou Tilley steps into the position formerly held by Jesse Ray Boyd as the "Red-Head" of the class.

A year's subscription of True Love is offered by Shirley Gray and Jesse Milan Boyd to those blind enough to fall.

Joel "E" Brown leaves on a motor scooter headed for Duke University.

The trusty geometry book which belonged to Judy Allen (and which got her straight 1's) is passed down to Peggy Russell.

I, Bill Hendrix, do hereby entrust to Ricky Humbert my little red scooter.

Polly Ann Brady leaves, glad to get out.

With fond memories of his jokes with Miss Greene dancing in his head, Lloyd Bray leaves GHS.

For those with mousy voices, Joyce Crisp has transferred her course in "How to Lower Your Voice" to next year's instructor Marylyn Bestedt.

Bobby Conway leaves for Greener Gridirons.

Fred Haar and Billy Cozart bequeath their big box of party invitations to Mac Respess and Glenn Briley with the only instruction—let the good times roll!

Diligently pecking away, Frances Cahoon says she'll leave her typing eraser (if there's any left) to the next TAU typist.

Bobby Barnhill inherits Claxton Stancill's English 12 seat and Richard Crawford donates Mr. James to give him a helping hand in murdering Macbeth.

R. C. Fields departs in his little blue Plymouth for Hillsdale. Say, isn't that where Lou resides?

A complete ensemble of music goes to Kitty Collins and Mary Dickinson—respectfully, Sylvia Rogers and Jane Fuller. Here's hoping you can equal their talent!

The refrain of "Oh Happy Day" floats o'er the air as Thomas Hardee leaves.

Shelby Harris leaves her rules and regulations for careful driving to the future use of Jessie Lee Kennedy.

On leaving GHS Dixie Hobgood heads for State (Meredith, Peace, Rex, and St. Mary's).

High-stepping Jill Sutton is left by former chief, Judy Howe, to lead the best majorettes GHS ever had.

Mr. Windley settles down peacefully among his "wood-butchers," "termites," and "1 by 2's" as Jesse Pollard and Harold Humbles leave.

Dorothy Jackson graciously donates her hair to Gayle "Baldy" Clapp.

For a bad case of slumber during class, Charles Ray Joyner and Vernon Wingate give their alarm clock and pot of black coffee to Tommy Saleed and Gene Brown.

R. J. Kennedy leaves for better or for worse.

Ginger "Yankee" King leaves for Rocky Mount to catch the 9:15 train to Baltimore.

Jo Ann Hales passes her superlative on to the deserving crowd.

I, Rachael Lang, leave my first-edition copy of Cheering in Ten Easy Lessons to Lou Cheatham. Beware of the results!

"Rah Rah" Langston hands down his football position to Mitchell Johnson, complete with broken nose and guard.

The petite size of Nurtia Mayo is given to Betsy Karsnak.

Robert Lassiter donates all of his cameras and equipment to Jack Clifford.

Larry "Texas" Jorgensen leaves the South for the wide open spaces.

Jackie Moore gives up her weakness for boys in blue to Sue Stocks, who seems to suffer from the same disease.

Norma Faye Mills and Jean Moye offer a bit of advice to Patsy Moore and anyone considering taking chemistry—DON'T!

Dail Moore leaves GHS with a smile.

Big sisters Lillian, Shirley, and Carolyn, hand down their books to Laura McArthur, Thelma Nunn, and Raymond Spain, hoping they come through with flying colors.

Our "country gentleman," Doug Morgan, leaves his way with girls to Thomas Whitaker, along with a full date book.

John Brooks inherits Vernon Tyndall's scholastic average (5) so the others in the class can catch up with him; and Curtis Patterson donates his dumb expression so he can look the part.

Dickie Newell's miraculous ability to get along with Mrs. Pick is inherited by Edgar Moore.

Bob Howell inherits Bobby Nunn's Habla usted espanol? ability.

"Clete" Oakley leaves his post on the Traffic Committee to the next "Stern Citizen."

We, O. J. Stancill and William Stokes, do hereby publish our secret formula for anyone interested in weight—losing or gaining.

Walter Perkins presents to brother Lawrence all his sure-shot points to run up a few scores in future years.

Jimmie Phelps leaves looking back at all those wonderful (?) years . . . ha!

Our future nurse, Ramona Pollard, leaves "Navy-bound."

Pat Perry leaves her sparkling blue eyes to Norma Barnhill, to keep bright.

Dinah Porter leaves nothing . . . needs it all.

I, Vivian Powell, wish I could leave one modern, majestic school completely equipped with faculty, students, and swimming pool.

The tattered and torn transcription notes that were formerly owned by Barbara Puryear are left to Peggy, Dot, and Nancy. Poor girls.

Jimmy Piver leaves wishing that he could take Jo with him. Parting is such sweet sorrow.

Lenna Rose's and Joe Stell's paints and brushes are passed on to Jay Robbins and Patsy Baker.

Our fair-haired lass, Ann Ruffin, leaves her long, curly locks to Linda Lundy.

"Beef" Savage leaves all the girls in GHS to Tommy Key Norris. Lucky Boy.

"How on earth did I finally make it?" wonders Ann Stancill as she leaves.

Bobby Smith donates his shortness to big Hal Edwards, so others can see over him in assembly.

I, Bobby Starkey, leave my gorgeous legs to Wayne Bishop in hopes that he will receive as many nice (?) compliments as I did.

D. R. Sullivan leaves GHS before Mr. James has the chance to flunk him. Keep your fingers crossed, D. R.

Mine eyes are dim — I cannot see;
I have not brought me specs with me.

Maybe Muriel Bland can use the specs which formerly belonged to Kathryn Tucker.

Jonnie Simpson leaves GHS with hopes of never returning.

Anybody need an extra inch or two? If so, Virginia Smith leaves her height to you.

Our talented Boots Teel is relieved of his worries as Donald McArthur takes over the band's trumpet section.

Roger Tyndall leaves passing Vernon.

Duke-bound Bill Taft donates his one mealy Cadillac to cousin Joe so he may finally have the pleasure of driving it.

Clara Mae Waters leaves her library seat to any bored Junior.

As Ruth Evelyn Topping steps down from her job as Co-Editor of the Green Lights, she places a five-year subscription in the capable hands of next year's editors.

A majorette's hat goes from Sylvia Weeks to any girl who likes to freeze in winter and roast in summer.

Bruce Tyson leaves 26 broken test tubes in Mrs. Pick's room.

Jerry Phillips leaves "Lard" and "Whit" at the mercy of the future teachers of GHS.

Charley White leaves to attend either VMI or the Citadel or, as he says, he's headed for imprisonment.

Frances Vandiford is left in charge of Shelby Wayne's English Lit. book in hopes that it will serve her well.

Miss Nancy Baker inherits Doris Wingate's seat in the shorthand class, way back in the corner where Mrs. Howell can't see.

Samuel Clyde Winchester, Junior, bequeaths the keys to that new black Plymouth to sister Jane.

Annabelle Wilkerson leaves her "little" brother Edwin to follow her footsteps.

Lou White Winstead leaves her never-to-be-forgotten smile to Sylvia Satterthwaite to carry on the tradition of friendliness.

Terry Bundy leaves, hoping to grow taller.

Elva Mae Brantley leaves her way with boys to Eula Mae Buck.

A brand new set of golf clubs is given to Clark Noble by the professional of our class, Brad Brooks.

Mr. Farley's "man Friday," David Dickinson, leaves his position to any capable Junior.

In order to make next year's NFL as good as this year's, Ginger Worthington leaves her office of President to Sally Beard, and Anne Ross leaves her speaking ability to make her a good presiding officer.

Bill Catlette leaves to see the world. Shouldn't have read so many of those Navy posters!

Our pretty-as-a-picture lass, Julia Ann Tracy, leaves her fair features and curly hair to the striking young girl, Alice Flye.

And to the rest of you—well, Edwards says he'll leave his dad. Mr. Dowd.

And I, on this the first day of February in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred, and fifty-four, do sign and seal this testament, and as my last official act, bequeath it to the TAU staff for publication. Amen!

Class Prophecy

Have you ever wondered what the fate of the class of '54 is to be? Well, let's look ahead to the class reunion in the Spring of 1964 . . .

As the magnificient plane glides gracefully down from the clouds, we survey the ground and notice how Greenville has grown in the past 10 years. The capable hands of Captain Bobby Langston guide Terry Bundy's newest luxury liner onto the landing strip of Leroy Quinn's Municipal Airport.

My fellow passengers, Frances Cahoon Rockefeller, who, by the way, is simply dripping with diamonds; Dinah Porter, U. S. Consul to France; Bobby Smith, Mayor of New York; and Ann Wilkerson, inventor of the automatic annual-making machine; eagerly scan the crowd for familiar faces.

Our pretty stewardesses, Dorothy Jackson and Shelby Harris, check the passenger list as we leave the plane.

Hey! Who's that crazy pilot? Nearly ran into the control tower. Why, it's Walter Perkins, America's first billionaire.

Virginia Smith, also a passenger, invites me to go with her to the Daily Reflector office. Virginia is their foremost foreign correspondent. Down at the Reflector office, editor Ann Ruffin greets us and has secretary Anna Fleming show us through the new building. There're Francis Warren and Eugene Woolard setting the type for the headlines "Class of '54 Holds First Reunion." Circulation manager Roger Tyndall is checking the receipts of his carrier boys. Hard at work behind his drawing board is cartoonist Billy Arnold. Sports writer Bill Hendrix proudly shows us his column for the day.

I see that New York Yankee Jerry Phillips has been elected most valuable player. It was a close contest, winning over such all-time greats as Bobby Nunn and Charles Ray Joyner.

As we leave the paper office, Jo Ann Hales pulls up in her lemon yellow 1964 Buick convertible and asks us to ride. Jo Ann has just arrived from Baltimore.

Riding down Evans we see Judy and Bruce putting up a new sign over Penney's front door—"Baker's." Several other changes have been made on the main drag. An ultra-modern drug store, "Cozart's," is next door. Inside we catch a glimpse of Billy busily filling prescriptions. On down the street, D. R. Sullivan and David Dickinson have opened the first self-service shoe store.

Riding into a residential district we see Leona Ainsley Laughinghouse, Carolyn Barnhill Evans, Barbara Puryear Whitford, Shirley Williams Harris, and Ann Stancill Gaylord chatting gaily as they watch over their children romping playfully in the grass.

Say, where are those screeching brakes coming from? Must have been a bad wreck up the way. "Hurry up Jo Ann, maybe we can be of some help." Well I'll be . . . a race track! Not the regular run-of-the-mill stock track, mind you, a rather sophisticated group of drivers and cars we find. There's Peggy Barnhill in a dove grey Oldsmobile sportster. Parked next to Peggy is a lime green Pontiac driven by Elva Mae Brantley. Neck-in-neck in a cloud of dust come Joyce Crisp in a dynamite red Nash and Bill Taft in a robin blue Cadillac. Coming down from the grandstand is Claxton Stancill, who donated the cars. Noticing the glint in Jo Ann's eye, Virginia wisely suggests leaving before she joins the ranks.

Across the road, Judy Allen and her trainers, Donald Saulter and Dail Moore, are quickly herding the English-speaking horses into vans. Judy has to move as the clatter from the track has left them speechless.

On the way back to town we pass the Braxton Business School. Heading Gladys' staff are Rita Alcock, Edna Brown, Nan Hardee, Shirley Nunn, Doris Wingate, Patsy Smith, Anne Ross, and Shirley Gray Boyd, North Carolina's best secretaries who have devoted their time to tutor better secretaries for better businessmen. But we'll be late for the reunion; we'd best hurry on.

Out on Elm St. the new school looms up. It's a strikingly beautiful and modern structure, sitting in stately pines, surrounded by green lawns.

On the right is the magnificent Morgan Stadium, named for football coach Doug Morgan, who has brought GHS six straight conference championships.

At the auditorium door we are greeted by Lillian McArthur and Ginger Worthington who offer to guide us through the new school.

In the music department we find Jesse Ray Boyd helping Miss Shindler direct the chorus in the contest numbers.

Clicking typewriter keys herald our arrival to the commerce department under the direction of June Barnhill and Lou Winstead.

Up stairs in the office we meet Edwards Dowd, successor to his father, his secretary Clara Waters, and bookkeeper Vivian Powell.

After Civil Engineer Stuart Savage surveyed the area, architect Jim Pleasant drew up the plans and the technical crew headed by cabinet makers Jesse Pollard and Harold Humbles, plumber Bobby Williams, and electrician Jimmy Piver moved in to produce Greenville's proudest building.

Back in the auditorium Polly Ann Starkey tells us that Bobby has "gone Navy."

Once seated we're in a sea of familar faces. Who's that man in uniform? Why, it's Bill Catlette and with five stars on his shoulder!

And there's Dixie Hobgood. Hear he's playing right tackle with the Cleveland Browns now. Next to him is R. J. Kennedy, Manager of WNCT-TV.

President Jimmie Phelps calls the reunion to order. Rev. Mr. Lloyd Bray gives the devotional. Afterwards he reads some telegrams received from class members who are unable to attend.

First comes one from the moon. Profs. Dickie Newell and Curtis Patterson regret they can't attend, but the 51st rocket motor on their space ship has burned out.

Charles Ballance wires that since Joe and Marilyn are calling it quits, he's waiting for Miss Monroe.

Next comes one from Gloria Cox, who's now a driver on a New York subway train, and Jackie Moore who now calls N. Y. her home.

"Texas" Larry Jorgensen writes that he's much too busy in his "Ride-in-Dentistry," which he opened for his partners, to attend.

Jonnie Simpson and O. J. Stancill send the next wire saying that they are now billed as "fat woman" and "thin man" in Ringling Bros. Circus.

The prexy of the Bachelors of America Club, William Stokes can't come 'cause he's got a date tonight, which he can't break.

Julia Ann Tracy wires that she's aiding her psychiatrist boss in curing Bruce Tyson, who has begun arguing with himself now.

Next is a telegram from Charley White, New York's favorite playboy. He's flying out to Hollywood trying to beat Charles in seeing Marilyn.

Vernon Wingate and Bobby Conway wire that they are still on the gridiron sending business the way of Bobby's family—tombstones, you know.

Fred Haar wires that his duties as Surgeon General of the United States are keeping him too occupied to fly down from Washington.

Glancing down the program entitled "1954 Talent," I see: Joel "E" Brown—ventriloquist. Jesse M. Boyd —hillbilly singing artist. Thomas Hardee and Ginger King, just back from the three-year run of their hit Broadway musical, "Oh Happy Day." Rachael Lang—world-famous concert pianist. Sam Winchester and Cledith Oakley—"How to Shoot a Duck." Fashion Show—designs by Carole Robbins, executed by Carolyn Spain, and modeled by "Proxy" Betty Gayle Raynor. Metropolitan opera star—Sylvia Rogers. Twin chalk talk—Lenna Rose and Joe Stell.

After the applause finally dies away, the meeting adjourns and the class of '54 heads out to the Green Hat Nightclub to dine and dance.

On the way, we let Ruth Evelyn out at the Presbyterian Church to meet Rev. Richard.

Also missing from the assembly are the hospital staff headed by '54 class members: nurses Sylvia Weeks, Nurtia Mayo, Jean Moye, Pat Perry, Ramona Pollard, and Shelby Wayne; technician Norma Faye Mills, and occupational therapist Kathryn Tucker. We all miss them, but their duties call.

Once at the club, owner Billy Bost shows us to our tables. Why, there's Robert Lassiter, Billy's lawyer —understand he's been quite busy lately.

During dinner there's a delightful floorshow starring "Boots" Teel's Combo, recently back from their run at New York's Stork Club, with vocalist Jane Fuller Bodkin.

At the next table are Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Fields. R. C. has recently been promoted to superintendent of National Carbon.

After dinner several of the "boys" retire to the back rooms. Presiding over the billiard game are Vernon Tyndall and Billy Adams. At the head of the pool table is Richard Crawford assisted by Brad Brooks, who is officially the golf pro.

And as all good things must come to an end, we leave, tearfully, with the strains of "Auld Lang Syne" ringing in our fond memories . . .

At least that's the way I see it.

Many hours have been well spent
As swift the days would come and go;
And to the task our backs we've bent
To bring you this our prize. And so
Take these, the labors of our hands;
Enjoy them now—you will we trust.

Then later on, as time demands,
You'll say we left you proud of us.
But no, not so much proud of us,
Who've been the leaders in the run;
Instead, be proud of the Class that said,
"We have not finished; just begun!"

DEAR OLD GREENVILLE

Dear old Greenville
Loyally we stand united
Rough and ready
Fight the fight with all your might and win—Hey!
Firm and steady
Eyes upon the ball always

Onward to victory, pride of future days
Fight the fight, Green and White
Onward we're pushing to win the goal
Then here goes, on your toes
Let them know we're death on foes
Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah!

ADVERTISEMENTS
